

Rodi Tsagkalidou

Rodi Tsagkalidou is a lecturer in the Electrical Engineering Department of the TEI of West Macedonia. She graduated from the IT Department of the Queens of the City University of New York, USA, with additional training and special seminars on Computer Marketing and Statistics at Baruch College in New York. She also holds a Master Degree in "Studies in Education ", Greek Open University, Patras .

She is a graduate of the Teachers Training Department, SELETE, Thessaloniki and holds certification in Continuing Vocational Training , from the National Organization for the certification of qualifications and vocational training, EKEPIS .

From 1981-1989 she worked as a programmer in companies and as a freelancer she dealt with the automation and computerization of SMEs.

From 1984-1993 she worked as a lecturer at the TEI of West Macedonia and in 1993 she was appointed as a permanent IT teacher in Secondary Education. She has also worked in Vocational Training Institutes and Vocational Training Centres.

In 1994 she was appointed as a permanent IT lecturer at the TEI of West Macedonia. Her teaching experience at the TEI includes IT courses in the Electrical Engineering Department, Environmental Engineering Department, (Environmental Geotechnology and Pollution Control Technologies divisions), Mechanical Engineering Department, Accounting Department, Business Administration Department and Computer Integrated Manufacturing Department .

She has developed teaching material for Electrical Engineering students, Mechanical Engineering students, Environmental Engineering students, Accounting students and Computer Integrated Manufacturing students.

She has a certificate in English language teaching from the Ministry of Education.